Mike - Per our discussion, I want to clarify that when our folks delivered the packets they were letting the residents know what their status is:

- i.e. Based on the data results, we do not see any levels of contamination that would cause a potential health concern. (If they were getting water we would add something along the lines of - However, before we make a decision to discontinue the alternate water supply, we'd like to take another round of samples to be certain.).

Then there are the ones that didn't have any thing that would cause an immediate health concern, but we wanted to do another round of samples because there were some elevated levels and we wanted to be sure (as I said, there may be on home that is getting water that falls into this scenario, but I am confirming).

We offered to all of them that we would come back at a later date to explain the information in more detail if they wanted.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you - Shawn
